PLEA: Bruce Morcombe.

Keep Jackway in jail: Daniel's father

THE father of missing Sunshine Coast teenager Daniel Morcombe yesterday made an impassioned plea to the state government for convicted child rapist Douglas Jackway to be kept in jail indefinitely.

Jackway, a person of interest in relation to Daniel's disappearance, could be out of prison within months.

Daniel disappeared when he was 13 from under the Kiel Mountain Overpass in 2003.

His dad Bruce Morcombe is concerned about the release of Jackway, 32, who has a propensity for frequent violent offending.

NAKED COMMERCIALISM: A section of a Sunshine Coast billboard which has angered a former chaplain. The accountancy ad has the caption, Where's your bottom line?

Chaplain says Coast billboard hits rock bottom

A SAUCY Sunshine Coast billboard has drawn the ire of a retired police chaplain who has described it as "soft porn" and an embarrassment to the community. The sign, on the side of a Coolum building, features a line of naked bottoms. It is advertising accountant Malcolm Chilmann's business, Bottom Line Control.

The former chaplain has called for a boycott of the company. FULL STORY ON PAGE 4
